November 2026 - Free study note for students

What you get in this note: the main landing-page prompt, a filled example for a Class 8 English page, 5 variations - tuition class, online course, event, club and Urdu-English - and a publishing checklist so no wrong or private detail goes public.

Why one page for a class works

Students ask the same questions again and again: What is today's homework? When is the test? Which period is Science? A class landing page answers all of them in one place, on any phone.

It helps three groups at once. Students can check homework and the timetable without messaging the teacher at night. Parents can see test dates and notices in one visit. The teacher updates one page instead of repeating the same message in many groups.

> The rule of this shortcut: one class, one page, only true facts. AI writes the words and the layout - you supply the real timetable, dates and contact details, and you check them before anyone sees the page.

What a good class page contains

- Header: class name, subject or school name, and one clear line about the class.
- Welcome: 2-3 friendly lines from the teacher.
- About the class: what students will learn this term, in simple words.
- Timetable: days and periods, or online class days and times.
- Homework and notices: today's homework, next test date, one important notice.
- Class rules: 4-5 short, positive rules.
- Contact: only the contact the teacher has agreed to share publicly.

How to use it - 4 simple steps

1. Collect the real facts first. Write down the class, subject, timetable, test date and the contact you are allowed to share. Do not let AI invent these.
2. Copy the prompt on the next page. Replace everything in [brackets] with your real details.
3. Choose the output. Ask for page text only if you will build the page yourself, or ask for simple HTML code if you want a ready page file.
4. Preview on a phone and check. Most students will open it on a phone. Read every date, time and name before you share the link.

Which tool? Any chat AI works - ChatGPT, Claude, Gemini or Muse. For ready HTML code, ask the same prompt and add: "Give the full page as one single HTML file."

The main prompt - copy and paste

Copy the whole box exactly as it is. Only change the parts in [brackets].

PROMPT - Landing Page for a Class Best for: ChatGPT / Claude / Gemini / Muse

> Act as a web designer and teacher's helper. Create a ONE-PAGE landing page for my class.
> Class: [CLASS, e.g. Class 8] Subject: [SUBJECT, e.g. English]
> School or academy name: [NAME - or write "no name"]
> Teacher name to show: [TEACHER NAME - only if I agree to show it]
> Main colours: [COLOURS, e.g. navy blue and white]
> Language: [English / Urdu / English with a little Urdu]
>
> Give the page in exactly these 7 parts:
> 1. HEADER - the class name in big letters and one welcoming line underneath.
> 2. WELCOME - 2 to 3 friendly lines from the teacher to students and parents.
> 3. ABOUT THIS CLASS - what we will learn this term, in 4 short bullet points, in simple English.
> 4. TIMETABLE - a clear table using ONLY this timetable I give you: [PASTE YOUR REAL TIMETABLE HERE]. Do not add or change any period, day or time.
> 5. HOMEWORK AND NOTICES - today's homework: [HOMEWORK]. Next test: [TEST DATE AND TOPIC]. One notice: [NOTICE - or write "none"].
> 6. CLASS RULES - 5 short, positive rules, for example "We listen when others speak."
> 7. CONTACT - show ONLY this contact: [CONTACT THE TEACHER AGREED TO SHARE - or write "Ask in class"]. Do not invent any phone number, email or address.
> Rules for the page: it must look clean and work well on a mobile phone first. Use big, readable headings. Keep every section short. Do not invent facts, dates, prices or results. If any detail above is missing, write [TO BE ADDED] in that place instead of guessing.
> Output: [A - page text only, with headings / B - one single ready HTML file with the same content].

Tip: The timetable line is the most important line in the prompt. AI is good at design and wording, but only you know the real timetable.

How to fill the brackets - one example

Bracket	Example
[CLASS] / [SUBJECT]	Class 8 / English
[COLOURS]	Navy blue and white
[TIMETABLE]	Mon-Fri, English period 2, 9:00-9:45 - pasted in full
[TEST DATE AND TOPIC]	Friday 20 November - Present Simple Tense

Golden rule: be specific. "Make a page for my class" gives a weak page. "Make a page for Class 8 English, navy and white, with this timetable" gives a strong one.

This example uses made-up class details to show the shape and size to expect. Replace every detail with your own real class facts.

5 variations for different needs

Use the main prompt first, then add one of these lines - or replace the class details as shown.

1. Tuition or academy class

> Make this page for a tuition class instead. Add a section: DAYS AND FEE INFORMATION - show only the days, time and fee I give you here: [DAYS, TIME, FEE]. Add one line: "For admission, visit the academy office." Do not invent any discount or offer.

2. Online class page

> Make this page for an ONLINE class. Replace the timetable with: class days and times [DAYS AND TIMES], the meeting link note "The class link is shared in our class group before each lesson", and a short list of what students need: a phone or laptop, a notebook, and a quiet place. Do not print any real meeting link on the public page.

3. School event or sports day page

> Make a one-page landing page for our school event instead of a class. Event: [EVENT NAME]. Date and time: [DATE, TIME]. Place: [PLACE]. Add sections: About the event (3 lines), Programme (a short list in time order, using only the items I give you: [PROGRAMME]), Who can come, and One notice for parents: [NOTICE]. Do not invent guests, prizes or timings.

4. Club or society page

> Make this page for our school [CLUB NAME, e.g. Science Club]. Add sections: What our club does (4 bullet points), Meeting day and time: [DAY, TIME], Teacher in charge: [NAME - only if agreed], and How to join (2 simple steps). Keep the tone exciting for students, but do not invent past achievements.

5. English with Urdu headings

> Make the same page again, but give every section heading in English first and then in Urdu, and add one short Urdu line under the Welcome section for parents who do not read English. Keep all dates, times and the timetable exactly the same as before. Do not translate names.

Follow-up prompts

Send these in the same chat, after your page is ready.

A. Make it look better

> Improve the design of this page only. Keep every word, date and time exactly the same. Make headings bigger, add more space between sections, and make the timetable table easier to read on a phone.

B. Shorten it for sharing

> Make a short version of this page that fits on one phone screen: only the header, today's homework, the next test date and one notice. Keep the wording simple.

C. Printable notice version

> Turn this page into a simple printable notice for the classroom wall: big title, timetable, homework, test date and rules only. Black text on white, no dark backgrounds, so it prints cheaply.

Before you publish - checklist

- Timetable, test date and times match the real class - checked line by line.
- Teacher name and contact are shown only with the teacher's permission.
- No student names, photos, marks or personal numbers anywhere on the page.
- No invented fee, discount, result or achievement was added by AI.
- The page opens and reads well on a phone, not only on a computer.
- Someone responsible - teacher or head teacher - has seen the page before the link is shared.

Use AI honestly and safely.

AI can design and write a page, but it does not know your school. Check every fact against the real timetable and notices before publishing. Never put a private phone number, home address, student photo or student marks on a public page. If you are a student, make the page for a class project or with your teacher's permission - do not publish a page in a teacher's name without asking first.
